LINGUISTIC SOCIETY OF INDIA

The Linguistic Society of India was founded in 1928 at the fifth Oriental conference in Lahore. The inaugural meeting of Linguistic Society of India was held on 1st April 1928 at the residence of principal A.C.Woolner in Lahore. Dr. Taraporewala, Professor of Comparative Philology, Calcutta University presided over the meeting. The inauguration coincided with the bestowal of the Order of Merit (the highest honour by the British Empire) on Sir George Abraham Grierson, who was instrumental in the first Linguistic Survey of India. Dr. Taraporewala, in his presidential address stated the aims and objectives of the Society, stressing the importance of the study of Indian languages and furthering the work done by Sir George Abraham Grierson. The objective of the Linguistic Society of India (LSI) is "The Advancement of Indian Linguistics and Scientific Study of Indian Languages". The Society functioned at Lahore from 1928 to 1938, during which six volumes of Indian Linguistics were published. In 1937 it was decided to shift the office from Lahore to Calcutta, where Professors S.K. Chatterji and Sukumar Sen took the responsibility of its running. Nine issues of Indian Linguistics were published from the Calcutta office. In November 1955 the Indian Philological Association, which had been functioning since 1945 at Pune, was merged with the Linguistic Society of India. The effective office and management was transferred to Deccan College, Pune. So far sixty volumes of Indian Linguistics have been published from the Pune office. Linguistic Society of India (LSI) publishes a Journal called "INDIAN LINGUISTICS" and the whole lot of its research work has been published in 75 volumes up till now (2014). LSI also holds an annual conference called "ALL INDIA CONFERENCE OF LINGUISTS (AICL)": "All India Conference of Linguists (AICL)" name is now changed to INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE OF LINGUISTIC SOCIETY OF INDIA (ICOLSI). The 36th International Conference of the Linguistic Society of India (ICOLSI-36) will be held at the Department of Linguistics, University of Kerala, Thiruvananthapuram (1-4, December 2014).
